Not illustrated. 1859 Excerpt: . . . honor of the State by leaving the interest due upon the bonds unpaid. In January, 1843, the general assembly passed an act to place the bank in liquidation. Since then more than thirteen years have elapsed, and it is represented that the affairs of the bank are now so complicated that they cannot be understood, and the whole of the assets ascertained without much labor and a thorough investigation. Deeming it essential to the interest of the State that the affairs of the bank should be thoroughly investigated, the executive, a short time since, caused John H. Crease to commence the work of examination. By a communication from him, dated October 1, 1856, it is believed, you will be fully impressed with the public necessity of having the true condition of the bank ascertained, and the interests of the State connected with it secured as far...
