I5282 2009a OCLC Number: (OCoLC)429904253 Subject: Marine resources conservation -- Law and legislation -- United States. Excerpt: . . . 11 management plans in Oregon and Florida to partnering with NOAA to assess priority sites for restoration throughout the country. We have also used regional planning information to provide guidance on energy siting decisions. We have shared these data and approaches through workshops, scientific publications, reports, and websites. Over the last several years, we have we have worked with partners to expand our conservation decision-support tools to directly address fishery, coastal hazard, and energy objectives jointly with conservation objectives. Examples of these approaches and current products are available at www.marineebm.org. The key to these mapping tools is identifying a smart mix of fishing, resource extraction, and nature protection. Developing Multi-Objective Marine Management Approaches: Adapting to Protect Human and Natural Communities One cannot promote fisheries over all other alternatives, just as one cannot just promote only conservation. The world is not that simple. Instead resource managers must move from single objective plans and management (e. g. , just conservation or...
