Brand New Book ***** Print on Demand *****.Excerpt from Cerebral Science Studies in Anatomical Psychology: A Book for Artists, Physicians and Teachers The considerable advance in the science of man during the past century has been due to the method of comparative anatomy, the comparing together of all living creatures. To know one animal organism alone, even man, is to know nothing. We only know by comparison. Psychology to-day needs the same method - comparison. The mind and character of man should be compared with that of the lion, the bull, and the lamb - all the creatures below him, as well as with the highest ideals of art and religion above him. Animals influence both history and biography. Every nation has its emblem. It might be maintained that the character of the lion, the eagle, and the wolf have the closest bearing upon the formation of the temper of a nation destined to military supremacy, while the animus of the lamb, the ox, and the horse are not less important in view of the industrial disposition. Without going so far as this, it is perfectly certain that we must study the brains of animals if we are to arrive at a knowledge of the composition of human nature. Character of brutes, character of men, character of gods, such is our theme. About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books.
